Big Gold Rabbit Foot
Yes, We Have Money
Retirement at 68—Why?
Real Summer in New York
By Arthur Brisbane

NEWS FROM PARIS suggests "another default in Paris on the debt to the United States," and the news is probably accurate. Britain's cabinet discussed payment to the United States, but reached no decision. Certain gentlemen think that the worst misfortune is to lose your rabbit's foot. Europe which enjoyed the habit of drawing gold out of the United States, predicts that this country will have money to spare, and that it will suffer misfortune because it has lost its financial "rabbit's foot" of gold. As a matter of fact, the country is only "off the gold basis," it still has its gold rabbit's foot tucked away in Washington, and it's the biggest gold rabbit's foot on earth.

In spite of Europe's fears and predictions, the dollar yesterday refused to drop lower. It went up a little. Those that have been selling American dollars short would have stopped their foolishness could they have attended a luncheon given yesterday by Mr. Berkowitz, manager of the American Weekly, to a dozen heads of important advertising firms in the United States. Mr. Berkowitz, interested in showing advertisers that this country still has money to spend, presented facts based on government reports. In 1932, Americans spent in total buying thirty-two hundred million dollars. That was buying in retail stores, not doctors' bills or family expenses. The exports of the whole world amounted to only thirty-two thousand twelve hundred and fifty million dollars, little more than one-third of our total business.

Americans have in their savings banks twenty-four thousand two hundred and eighty-five million dollars. All the savings banks in the world, outside of this country, have only seventeen thousand million dollars deposited. Also, the people of the United States, appreciating their own value, carry one hundred and nine thousand millions in life insurance. The rest of the world carries only thirty-three thousand millions of life insurance.

Whoever worries about the American dollar, that can buy anything in this kind of a country, is wasting his money. A distinguished French banker, deploring the weakness of the dollar, says "we are all in a show-down strength, meaning 'money' strength. Uncle Sam, with enough to buy up this rest of the world, is not worrying about that show-down."

Mr. Woodin, secretary of the treasury, needed for Uncle Sam one thousand million dollars of five-year notes, paying two and seven-eighths interest, plus four hundred millions of "nine-month certificates" paying less than one per cent. These government debts, for the first time, are payable "in lawful money," which makes nice money.

Nevertheless, Mr. Woodin was offered five thousand millions, when he only asked for one thousand. Somebody seemed to think our lawful money is sound and that President Roosevelt knows what is doing.

Prof. William Lyon Phelps, who has been teaching boys at Harvard and Yale for 42 years, refuses at the "automatic retirement age of 68." That retirement age for a learned mind is silly. At 65, and at 70, a man should do his best teaching. Pope Leo was hard at work at 80. Gladstone ran the Liberal party in England at 80. Titian was painting magnificently when the plague killed him at 80. Michelangelo at 80 was still working. Why retire an American teacher at 68?

HEROES ARE ROUSED BY POLITICS AMONG POLICE HEADS

DATILLAGES FOR BERTH OF CROWD

Investigation Bares Widespread Discontent in Department

People transfers already made and others which he is contemplating. Police Comm. Rulman today faces the task of putting his own department in order before a case like that can be made on the crime situation in Boston.

The Boston Evening American has learned that the entire department, from its highest officials to the lowliest patrolmen, is seething with political intrigue, discontent, envy and the morale-shaking "don't care" attitude of many of its officers.

LEADERS DISCONTENTED

Political intrigue aimed to secure high offices and chase points for men has done much to injure the morale of the department, it has been learned.

Widespread discontent has also been aroused among patrolmen as the failure of the commissioner to appoint new captains from the up-graded civil service list.

The Boston Evening American is coming to the realization that he may come to a closer realization of the situation by visiting six or seven of the district offices in the department, have had the inside track to the commissioner's office since he took over the department in 1930.

Their information and advice, time has shown, has not been of the best. In fact, subsequent developments have shown that in the long run it has failed to maintain an acceptable average, which the general good of the department requires.

It may be that the commissioner's policy that at times he has been followed. It is an on-again-off-again policy that has not met with anything but enthusiasm.

It is a known fact that the commissioner is thoroughly disgusted with some of the district offices he has uncovered in his own private investigation of the Back Bay and South Boston divisions.

Special probes are being carried on to uncover more still, but some details which may lead to changes in the personnel of each station.

But to return to the commissioner's house-cleaning problem, the results of the investigation of the commissioner is just finding out the conditions of his district offices.

Battling at the very top of the department, the commissioner is engaged in an undercover fight going on for the prize post of superintendent.

It is expected to bring a long and honorable career in his city's service to a close in a short time.

As a result of the struggle to the throne are waging a fierce battle for the prize. And it is a part little bit of the various elements in the efforts of the various candidates to win the prize.

The various candidates are all bringing political pressure to bear. And it is a part little bit of the various elements in the efforts of the various candidates to win the prize.

It is pointed out that in 1932 there were 31 captains in the Boston police department. Today there are 17, little more than half as many. And it is unlikely any new captain will be named in the near future, according to the commissioner's present plan.

There may be a shortage of captains but this does not apply to sergeants. There is an average of one sergeant to every eight men in the department.

Among the arguments, the trouble confined to a conflict for the "three of a kind." Every possible wire is being pulled by the best forces.

TRUCK CRASHES INTO HOUSE; 3 ARE HURT

A runaway 2-ton truck raced down a hill in Boston today, crashed through the rear of a two-family house, 180 Brayton rd., and injured a woman and her two daughters.

The injured, Theresa Cole, 25, struck by a flying window frame and shattered glass while leaning against general houses and cuts.

Robert H. Lee of 5 Codman Hill st., Roxbury, is owner and operator of the truck, according to the police. He and a helper were about to move a piano from the Country Day school when one of the wheels stuck in the mud. While freeing it, the truck broke away and crashed through the rear of the house owned by J. F. Ryder.

HULLMAN IS IN NEW PROBE

Unlikely to secure transfers to the various divisions where the contacts are many and varied.

And the lucky ones are the object of envy, not only of other patrolmen but of the various patrolmen in the department.

Many of the patrolmen are at the bottom as far as minimum wage is concerned. They are for the most part men with families and are unquestionably difficult to poison the sergeant making all the nice contacts.

Most of them have been hard hit by the pay reductions and the ending of the step rate pay increase. All these factors have combined to make them "don't want" men.

The once-proud bureau of criminal investigation has also demonstrated a need of careful housecleaning. It has been learned, once the goal of every ambitious patrolman who sought the opportunity to become a plainclothesman and distinguish himself, it has become a goal little desired.

Examples of favoritism experienced by many men there have given them little incentive to do their best work and many after achieving a transfer to the B. C. I. have encountered the "cold shoulder" and finally sought the more congenial atmosphere of the division station house.

Training at the B. C. I. is more or less compulsory and there is no incentive to work at the present time. Only the favored few are given the opportunity to work on outstanding cases.

The homicide squad in particular has not to be known for its work out the department as the "cold shoulder" here especially. Here especially, the "cold shoulder" in all its ugly monitor thrust into the path of the ambitious newcomer.

Many promising officers have been attached to the squad for their failure to "click" has brought them transfers back to their divisions. And there is plenty of evidence to indicate it was their lack of ability that they did not succeed.

DOGGONE RIGHT, IT'S A DOGGY WAY TO GO

Maybe you know there's nothing slow about Hollywood. Even its dogs are right up to the minute—air-minded—Rin Tin Tin, Jr., with his master, Les Duncan, the other day flew to Chicago Century of Progress Exposition.

"What's this we hear about hot weather? Esther Johnson, Marjorie Johnson and Betty Knauer, all rooters of Samoset Canoe Club, seem little worried over torrid weather of recent days. They'll be on hand to root for their club at annual 26-mile canoe Marathon, on June 18. How could Samoset lose with these fair maidens rooting for them?"

LAW OFFICERS MEET TO START DRIVE ON MASSACHUSETTS CRIME WAVE

"Gangsters and crime must go from our state." That could very well be the slogan of the gathering of law enforcement officers in session today at call of Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner. The "Call to Arms" brought the district attorney group together at the State House. In addition to Warner's staff there were 17 county prosecutors in the group who are battling crime. They are (left to right) district attorneys and assistants: John J. Ryan, William G. Andrews, Frank G. Volpe, Paul

R. Folsy, Warren L. Bishop, all of Middlesex County; E. G. Norman, of Worcester; A. S. Houghton, Worcester. You see Mr. Warner, seated. Kidnaping will be discussed at great length—many of the delegates will no doubt favor action.

INSURANCE MEN GET TOGETHER

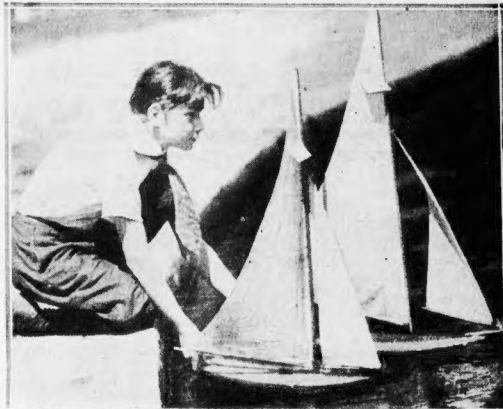

Sure, they talked insurance. But many other interesting topics were discussed, during get-together dinner of National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters at Hotel Statler. The Rev. John Nicolmark of Arlington, and Thomas C. Cheney of Morrisville, Vt., who presided, chat between bites. Hundreds of Bay State insurance men were present at the get-together. The organization had members present from almost every section of the country. Their women folk came too.

PAST AND PRESENT AT AD CLUB PARTY

The photographer caught Walter E. Myers, new president of the Advertising Club of Boston, as he chats with Col. Carol Swan, retiring president, and Mrs. Herbert Stevens. They were having "big talk" at annual party of the club, in Hotel Statler. Myers had brad the advertising organization through the coming year. Many big things are to be handled by the new president. Col. Swan had a most successful term as leader of the ad men.

BACK BAY BOY BACKS BEST BOATS

The annual miniature yacht races and contest, held under the auspices of the Community House and supervised by Francis X. McLaughlin, were held today. Hundreds of boys and girls with their own pet yachts were at the Frog Pond on the Boston Common. We show you Bruno Cecil. He is posing with his first prize winner—an 18-inch beauty (at left) and his 24-inch yacht by which he won a second in that class. Bruno lives at 40 Isabella st.

For the first time in the history of the organization, a roof garden party was presented by employees of the William Filene's Sons on the roof of the store. Filene workers furnished their own music and entertainment. A minstrel show by members of the staff was the big feature. Black-faced comedienne and comedians furnished the laughs for the evening. In fewer words, the roof of the Filene company store on Washington st. was turned into an open air theater, not to mention a large sized dance hall. Buses and employees danced together. (Boston American Photos.)

A single crashing knockout and the fans are once more talking about boxing and million dollar gates.
Max Baer's right hand sock, which knocked out Max Schmeling in 10 rounds, was heard around the world.
The heavy thumping Californian had not left the gate when the champion defends his crown against Baer next year.

If Sharkey should knock out Primo Carnera when they battle at the Garden Bowl in Long Island on June 29, you will have a million dollar gate when the champion defends his crown against Baer next year.
Baer's terrific punching power, clowning, carelessness and refusal to follow the routine laid down by trainers and managers down through the years have given him the color that appeals to the imagination of the American public. After all we expect a fighter to be a rough sort of individual. Baer qualifies in this respect.

Baer has a tremendous reach. He is also tall, and so is able to land with his freakish, swinging blows.
Baer did not have any license to score with the right hand punch which started Schmeling on the road to defeat. Yet the big smash crashed to the button. I find that follows to the top in the boxing game a habit of breaking precedents.

Schmeling Fought a Methodical Battle
There was not any flash of brilliance in the Schmeling style of ring warfare. I thought he fought a stupid fight. He kept walking in on a straight line with his hands in the same position at all times. He was so careful not to change his style that one would think he was a mechanical toy.
No fighter will ever beat Baer by walking straight at him, and then starting an exchange of punches. Schmeling was told before the bout that Baer's chief asset was his punching power. He knew the fellow could not box well enough to keep himself warm on a night when it was 100 under the ring lights.

Red Sox May Trade Brown to Indians for Burnett

Tom Yawkey, millionaire boy owner of the Red Sox, is in town. He has his check book with him. And he's anxious to use it until his well-filled pen runs dry in an effort to strengthen his club before the deadline on major league trades next Thursday night.

Tom is unique among magnates in that he doesn't say there is nothing doing when he has two or three swaps in mind. He frankly admits that General Manager Eddie Collins is working on two or three propositions that would bring new players to the Sox and that he is on the scene to provide any cash that might be necessary.

Collins, the prey says, prefers to pay cash rather than give players in exchange for new material, but those with whom he is dealing also seem to value ivory higher than gold. So some of the present Fenway charges may go, if Eddie can get the men he wants.

SOX WOULD TRADE BROWN TO INDIANS FOR BURNETT
Cleveland, June 10 (AP)—Cleveland, with baseball talk to day, talk largely concerned with player deals likely to follow the firing of one manager and bring of another.
Walter Perry Johnson, the new pilot, was aboard an early arriving train, detailed to start immediately the task of retraining the Cleveland team for a pennant-contending team this year.
Johnson was called to confer with General Manager Billy Evans and draft a program that will strengthen the team that has lost 16 of its last 20 games. He has not seen the Indians in action this year but the general manager supposed he would engineer some trades before the deadline for swapping players next Thursday.

GILCHRIST'S 70 PUTS U. S. OPEN TITLE IN GRASP

AMATEUR SLATE HAS 211 FOR 54 HOLES

...of the running with a total of 225.

...4 6 8 4 4 4 4 4 3 3 15-225

Guidon, who had served previous notice that he was "hot" with an outgoing 33 yesterday, rallied on his third round for an incoming 34 and a total of 70, two under par, that put the St. Louis pro in second place at 104 holes mark. He had birdies on the 11th, 12th and 15th, but missed several short putts on which he three putted.

...4 6 8 4 4 4 4 3 3 15-225

Fisher went to play the 18th hole, taking a 42 for a score of 74 on his third round.

Fisher in 436-437 355 42-74

...Olm Dutra closed his third round with a 73 for a total of 221, putting him 1st stroke back of Goodman.

O. Dutra in 434-435 343-58 75-221

Goodman in another glittering display under the green finished his third round two under par, with a 64 on the incoming 18th. His shot making was scarcely less spectacular than when he won a record 66 yesterday and kept a salary of more than 2000 spectators in an uproar.

WIZARD ON GREENS

The Nebraska had 10 single putt greens and did not manifest the slightest sign of cracking under the pressure of beating off all professional challenges.

At the time Goodman finished, his nearest rival at the 54 hole mark was Craig Wood, of Deal, N. J., who shot a 73 for a total of 218, seven strokes behind the flying Nebraska.

KIRKWOOD WILTS

Joe Kirkwood of Coral Gables, Fla., who had started the third round only three shots behind Goodman, took a 79 and trailed the leader by 13 shots with a 54-hole total of 223.

Mortie Dutra of Detroit, posted a par 72 and totalled 220.

Goodman, eight under par for two consecutive rounds, was one under par for the 54 holes. With the title seemingly in his grasp, the young pro needed only a 74 on the 18th hole to set a new record for the American open championship.

Clark Evans set the mark at 248 in 1916 and Gene Sarazen equaled it last year.

Diamond Dust

By JOE CASHMAN

Jimmy Fox of the A's and Lou Gehrig of the Yankees met in the top line run race by hitting circuit drive No. 12 in Friday's Tanis-Albion battle which the New York Yankees won 10-4.

He was hit by Tony Lazzeri, Tony Wallace and the 100-foot slugger, a hit with Wally Berger, Chuck Klein and Gabby Hartnett for fourth place.

The hustling St. Louis Cardinal are back on the National League front as a result of their 12 to 2 victory over the Chicago Cubs while the New York Giants, who had been on top, were idle.

Pepper Martin increased his lead in the National League batting race by getting two doubles and a single in five times up. Frankie Frisch came through with a triple and a pair of two-baggers. Ted Carleton, on the Mount City hill, won his seventh game in nine starts this season.

Buccs Quit Slump

Pittsburgh's Pirates snapped out of their slump to take the Reds out of camp 2 to 0, in a thrilling pitching duel between Steve Sweeney and Paul Derringer.

Up to the ninth inning of their Friday battle with Chicago, it was a good 100 to 1 bet that the Tigers would win. Their sixth straight victory ended when the Philadelphia Phillies came through with a triple and a pair of two-baggers. Ted Carleton, on the Mount City hill, won his seventh game in nine starts this season.

Gilchrist Team Takes Trade Board Crown

By BILL GRIMES

Just as the Wm. Filene's Sons Co. team was celebrating the retiring of the E. J. Frost Cup, H. W. Schuchack, of Gilchrist's, came in with a net 57 which gave the Gilchrist Co. the store championship of the 14th Retail Trade Board tournament, held at the Weston Golf Club.

Back in 1929 when the Retail it was fitting that H. W. Schuchack was responsible for the blocking of the Blue Masked Marvel at Paul Bowen's wrestling show in the Garden last night.

SCARFACE STRADDY

Although one of the oldest competitors in the field, H. W. Schuchack is one of the swiftest during his round. Schuchack was in the rough only on two occasions and only once was he trapped. He came up with a 57 gross and a 57 net, which gave Gilchrist a team total of 206.

Before the time the veteran had turned in his card, Frank Vorenberg had turned in a net 71, while M. G. Balmay and C. M. Clarke has a pair of 75.

As usual, Jack McCarthy was among the gross winners. Jack had a bad day, for he carded an 84, which slid him into a three-cornered tie with Frank Vorenberg and Art Hupley, Slattery's.

Ben Black, Shepherd's, carried home the low net prize of 61 and with his 86-13-73, and the second net went to Art Hupley, who lost out in the draw for one of the low gross prizes.

BALLOU GROSSES 87

H. W. Schuchack, Gilchrist and A. B. Ballou, S. P. Pierce Co. tied for low gross in Class B with 87.

McCarthy Wins; Meets George

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

The throne he lost to Ed Don George and leading bells in France ran side by side to the next objective of Henri DeGlaine of France, who hosted the Blue Masked Marvel at Paul Bowen's wrestling show in the Garden last night.

Henri will serve George for the world's heavyweight championship June 21 as an all-star show in aid of the Weston Evening American Christmas Bazaar Fund.

A confident it is of grasping his old title again that Henri appeared at the same time that he will sail for France right after the bout to make Margaretta Mori of Paris, Mrs. "World Champion."

MARVEL IS FRANK COLE

DeGlaine win over the maked one not only took up the sturdy frame of that individual but upon his decorum considerably when the usupular grappler in blue was forced to unmask in defeat.

With eight teams accounted for, Filene's was all set to enter the Frost Cup with a team total of 300 and in order for Gilchrist to win first leg on the famous trophy, it was necessary for Schuchack to come in with a 75.

McCarthy Wins; Meets George

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

The throne he lost to Ed Don George and leading bells in France ran side by side to the next objective of Henri DeGlaine of France, who hosted the Blue Masked Marvel at Paul Bowen's wrestling show in the Garden last night.

Henri will serve George for the world's heavyweight championship June 21 as an all-star show in aid of the Weston Evening American Christmas Bazaar Fund.

A confident it is of grasping his old title again that Henri appeared at the same time that he will sail for France right after the bout to make Margaretta Mori of Paris, Mrs. "World Champion."

STATE ST.

Hears: That the legend rails are said to be waiting on developments preliminary to the wage conference. In some quarters it is insisted that lower rail wages are an absolute necessity. Naturally the boom in nature has not aided executives in convincing the labor unions that this is so. Marktwake was can only keep a sharp eye on the industry while in order that sudden weakness will not escape us. As long as the 30 industrial refuse to break 91.50 on the hour by figure it may be the lead of the rate is being refused.

The Outlook

The new term outlook for security prices is principally concerned with the approaching loss of their principal stimulus. Congress is going home. And, believe it or not, the markets are going to miss the stimulus. The market has provided since last March.

This and That

Paradoxical as it may sound, probably there will be a demonstration of the will of the people in the coming election. In other words, the folks will vote with a high of relief when the Congress goes home. In a brief time, the constructive imagination is being denied.

Such a market

Such a market, but it seems to us it will present a good chance to make liquidation for the small trader could do damage to the market. The market is a grand animal. Summer rest and quiet would prepare him for the things in the fall.

Ticker Talk

Archon breaking 62, would seem to be headed for London. The support should be forthcoming. The market is being filled. The market is being filled. The market is being filled.

Trans Corporation

Trans Corporation is acting as though it were very busy to break away on the upside. There is a possibility of a move in places in a hurry. Many of the things in the market are in a hurry. Many of the things in the market are in a hurry.

COOK-COOS

By TED COOK

Copyright, 1933, The Boston Evening American.
Michigan officials are puzzled about what to do with a country treasurer who stole $38,000, invested it in the stock market and made a profit.
As we see it there's only two things to do with him. Either let him steal some more, or stuff him in a museum.

Another girl
The phone me cranky
Bitter, it
I'm a beastie.

"As for me," remarks Genevieve, the kitchen cynic, "I'm not sure whether the World Economic Conference should be opened on time or kept closed for alterations."

EXCUSE IT, PLEASE!
(Official Chapel from the Lunar, Mo. Democrat)
"Owing to a misprint in last Tuesday's paper a number of names were omitted from among those who were at Albi at Wanda Norton's home. There were 244 members present instead of 15."

Miss Shrove asked in a whim, "How many men in your class and class?"

Q. and A. DEPARTMENT
Dear Thoughtful Aunt Bella—
How many full admirals has the United States Navy had?
Curious.

Ans.—Auntie B is very sorry, dearie, but she is not one who goes in for the navy in a social way. A. ("High-Toned") Bolla.

DAILY DOUBT
"I'd give the whole world to be a way, way back where I used to be—in a shanty in old Shantytown." Ted Lewis.

Miss Shrove asked in a whim, "How many men in your class and class?"

All those Senators who zip about the simple supply of silver ought to be something about having the clouds reined.

MIGHTY NICE OF THE BOYS.
(New Line)
NEW YORK—The United States Bridge Association announced today that it will give against any sudden changes in the rules of the game, "which have been so disturbing in the past."

FAMOUS LAST WORDS
But how do you expect me to sing it if you don't know the words?

TRouble IN PARADISE
Scene—Conference room in Wall Street. Assembled around the table are representatives of the Chicago Loan Corporation. They are conferring with Abe an Mo Monowit, producers of Colonial Pictures, who now owe $43,374,565.

Banker No. 1—
Now Messrs Monowits, let us explain the crux of your status; we cannot remain indifferent; you'll have to cut costs once again.

Banker No. 2—
The quarterly statement convincingly shows us your balance for months is as red as your nose.

Banker No. 1—
We cannot go on continually winking at overhead waste while your profits are shrinking.

Mo Monowit—
Gentlemen, we will propose a new plan. To cut down expenses—we're sure that we can reach an agreement.

Sam Monowit—
This is the program we herewith propose. We'll fire instantly each one of those who isn't related to me or to Moses!

Bankers 1 and 2—
All of your pictures, (excepting the hits) have been written and acted by some Monowits.

You do the directing and play all the bits. And also supervise. So the plan you're proposing, it's unsatisfactory; we cannot accept it.

Because it would merely unsettle two or three Night Watchmen.
